

PERMANENT MAKEUP AFTERCARE INSTRUCTIONS

EYEBROWS

-Expect slight swelling, thickness and redness for 1-2 days following the procedure. Keep the treated area lightly glossed with After Care ointment for at least 24 hours following your procedure. If you have Microbladed brows you will need to apply After Care ointment for 2-3days following your procedure. DO NOT use Neosporin!

-You will experience itching as the area heals. This is normal and will subside.

-DO NOT pick or scratch your eyebrows. Avoid pulling any scabs off prematurely. They will come off naturally as the skin heals. Pulling them off before they are ready will lead to loss of pigment in that area.

-Avoid any and all Retin-A, Retinol, Retinoid and Glycolic acids in or on the brow area. This will fade them prematurely and could potentially turn them orange.

-Avoid the sun, tanning, facials, swimming, heavy sweating and whirlpools for at least 5 days for tattooed eyebrows. If you have Microbladed eyebrows you will need to avoid the above activities for 10 full days.

-Brows can not be in direct sun for 14 FULL days after your procedure. They can turn grey/blue and the color can not be reversed. It is highly recommended that you always keep sunscreen on them whenever you're in direct sun.

-It's VERY important to keep the eyebrow area clean as to avoid infection. If you feel the area has come in contact with anything that may compromise healing you will need to cleanse the area with a cotton pad and a small amount warm water and a gentle cleanser, such as Cetaphil.

You will experience 20-40% loss in pigment color during the healing process. It is important to follow these instructions to avoid unnecessary loss in color. Your skin will continue to slough off over the next few weeks. Your brows will appear to continue to lose color during this process. It's recommended to apply a moisturizer with SPF 15 or higher to bring back color as well as protect them from prematurely fading

Please do not hesitate to call if you have ANY questions or concerns.

Cynthia Wellington
Germantown Day Spa
9030 Poplar Pike, Suite 104
Germantown, TN 38017
Cell: (901) 651-0298